

MEET DR. ALICE AIKEN, DALHOUSIE'S NEW DEAN OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS

Dalhousie University is proud to welcome Dr. Alice Aiken as Dean of the Faculty of Health Professions.

Dr. Aiken's career has been defined by her diverse experiences and dedication to service. As a former officer in the Canadian Forces, an accomplished professor and academic administrator, a practicing physiotherapist and a co-founder of the Canadian Institute for Military and Veteran Health Research, Dr. Aiken has the broad perspective and leadership ability to guide the Faculty of Health Professions through an era of exciting transformation.

A Dalhousie graduate in Physical Therapy, Dr. Aiken brings a vision for her alma mater that positions the Faculty of Health Professions as a regional and national leader in health care reform.
